Help Stock a Fish Pond

Em used to make fun of her neighbors for their Christian beliefs—until a Samaritan's Purse team came to the village to set up fish farms for impoverished families like hers. Moved by their compassion, Em listened eagerly to the Gospel, accepted Jesus Christ, and began reading the Bible. "I'm so blessed with what Samaritan's Purse has done for my family," Em said. Working with local ministry partners, we have established dozens of fish and shrimp farms across Latin America, Africa, and Asia. A $50 gift can stock a pond with 500 fingerling fish or furnish other supplies.

Livestock

Farmers in developing countries often lack mechanized equipment to plant and harvest their crops, so they rely on "beasts of burden" like donkeys. Such sturdy animals can also pull carts, transporting farm products to market in areas where paved roads are virtually non-existent. Samaritan's Purse has provided donkeys in Sudan, as well as oxen in Cambodia and even llamas in Bolivia. For $350, we can provide a farmer with a donkey or other hard-working livestock. These gentle beasts are a wonderful reminder of the humility of our Lord: "See, your king comes to you, gentle and riding on a donkey" (Matthew 21:5a, NIV).
